

COST OF LIVING:

BUILD THE FIGHTBACK

Minister for Finance Paschal Donohoe has said there will be no action taken on the cost of living before October's budget. This is completely out of touch with the hardships faced by workers, pensioners, students and poor people.

We need serious action on the cost of living, and we need it now:

- 1 Put a maximum unit price on gas, electricity or oil.
- 2 Impose rent controls and allow for rent reductions.
- 3 Stop profiteering. Re-nationalise the energy sector.
- 4 Set up a state company to retrofit homes and cut

Last month, the French government capped energy prices at 4%, rather than 44.5% - not because they're left-wing, but because they are terrified of the thousands that have been protesting on the streets.

It's time to put the same fear into our government here. We need a mass movement of people power to force them to take action. Ultimately, we need to force them out of power and bring in a Left Government that is committed to radical change.

People Before Profit has been central to building the Cost of Living Coalition.

We are committed to building the movements we need to fight for the change we need.
